The Desperate Affair of Miss Deborah Goose.

Foxie Finnegan—"Now, Miss Deborah, either marry me or become my dinner."
Miss Deborah Goose—"Oh, sir! Spare me! Have you no mercy?"

Master Pinkie Pig—"Ah, sweet little Deborah! What a pretty night to walk! But, first, I'll sing a song beneath her window."

Foxie Finnegan—"Goodness me! What is that awful noise? This is no place for me; I must be going."

Miss Deborah Goose—"O Pinkie dear, you certainly are a fine singer! Your voice just saved my life."
